We - Get

Women Entrepreneurs generating enhanced training

This was a 30 month project with partners from Netherlands, Spain, Italy, Bulgaria, France and Northern Ireland.

It was aimed at woman who were or wanted to be Entrepreneurs and educators who work with them.

Our main goal was to form training to help these women develop, expand and bring their idea to a successful business.

We succeeded by having a website that hosts self assessments,   training and even a variety of videos.

Final Meeting Turin Italy

March 8th and 9th saw the partnership visit Turin in the North of Italy to be hosted by Istituto Dei Sordi for our final meeting.

We were hosted in this old but beautiful building which is a school for the deaf.

We spent 2 days, covering all aspects of the project including sustainability and then enjoyed a wonderful dinner in a traditional restaurant.

Importance of partnerships

The We Get partnership has been strong and consistent, this allowed for free opinions and feedback.

We were able to plan, develop and finalise every aspect from start to finish, smoothly.

This meant that not only did we complete the outcomes we set out to, but completed them to a very high standards, to the extent that many of the partners have used the training in their own organisations outside of the projects.

This will ensure longevity of the project, once it completes we will still have access to the website allowing us to use the training on a regular basis and direct any entrepreneurs to the site for self assessments and videos as well a resource bank of research, grants, development documents.
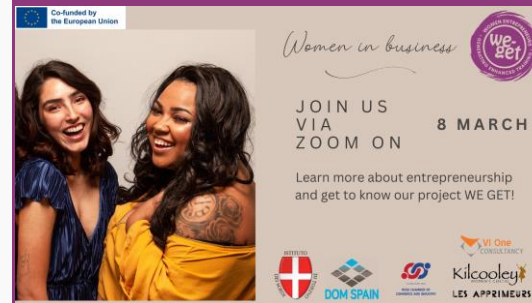

Zoom to Northern Ireland

Partners to some time to join an International Women's day event in Northern Ireland ran by Kilcooley Women's Centre (KWC).

Partners introduced themselves, country and organisation and the CEO from KWC then talked about the project and the benefits it has for women.

Women in business

During the meeting our Lead Partner - ViOne – also hosted a women in business zoom.

This was promoted as part of the project as part of our dissemination.

Women in business from all over Europe were invited to learn about Entrepreneurship and share their business and experiences in the field.

Dissemination – sharing - is our way of keeping the project in the public eye, attracting entrepreneurs and stakeholders, who then promote and support the project.

The partners celebrated the end of a successful meeting by going for a group dinner.

This was in the centre of Turin with delicious food and a wonderful view.

Our hosts were so generous and planned a wonderful visit.

IO4

Our last meeting very aptly fell on International Women's day.

The theme focused on empowerment and equality.

The day itself was about celebrating women's achievements.

As a female focused project, we felt it right to celebrate this day, so we took some time to discuss and document how as individuals would help to forge women's equality.

Some of our replies were
- Highlight gender equality
- Support campaigns against violence against women
- Providing more opportunities
- Produce useful materials

Our meeting saw us showcasing our webinars and inspirational videos. We took time to view each others and give feedback .

The Webinars cover topics including Motivation, creativity and passion.

The inspirational videos show Female entrepreneurs from all around Europe who took part in We Get and now have successful businesses.

IO 4 also followed on from IO3 which showed us how big the need for more funding for female entrepreneurs was all over Europe.

Therefore we developed a petition that has over 100 signatures already and will be available at multiplier events for more signatures and to show our local elected representatives.
